

F1 Firearms Review

WRITTEN BY

SAM M

PUBLISHED ON

OCTOBER 19, 2018

CATEGORY

AR-15, BRANDS,
RIFLE

F1 Firearms is on the rise and there's no telling how high they will go. The impressive Texas-based firearms manufacturer may be small, but it's already garnering one hell of a reputation. In fact, these popular modern sporting rifles have found their way into the hearts of famed

Table of Contents

- Skeletonized AR15
- F1 AR15
- Assorted Products
- Conclusion

shooters such as Jerry Miculek and Matt

Carriker, the man behind Demolition Ranch. To put it succinctly, F1 stands out thanks to its commitment to in-house machining with only the finest, state-of-the-art technology. However, it's their remarkable simplicity and premium materials and components which is helping them gain traction in the firearms industry. In addition to the 416SS barrels and state-of-the-art barrel cells, you'd be amazed at the quality of their 7075-T6 domestic aluminum components. This provides shooters with lighter and stronger weapons which are capable of holding tolerances up to 0.0001". I should warn you that while they only manufacture a small selection of firearms, they offer an insane variety of customizations. That being the case, their catalog is practically limitless. So, let's get things going and take a closer look at F1 Firearms and their best-selling rifles.

The link to this photo or video may be broken, or the post may have been removed.

Visit Instagram

Skeletonized AR 15

The F1 Skeletonized AR-15 is the Texas-based manufacturer's premier firearm and for good reason. These seriously sweet rifles are ideal for competition shooting – 3-gun in particular – but are a great addition to any shooter's collection. F1 incorporated several low-key features which help make these AR-15's so well-suited for competition shooting, including a minimized handguard, Raptor charging handle, and a black nitride compensating muzzle brake. Similarly, their flared magwells ensure easier reloads on the move while their fluted medium contour match barrels provide shooters with unmatched dependability and incredible accuracy. To make the skeletonized AR15s even sweeter, F1 designed them to easily run low-quality ammo, accept Magpul mags, and handle all MIL-SPEC patterned parts.

The link to this photo or video may be broken, or the post may have been removed.

Visit Instagram

Model: UDR-15-3G Skeletonized Rifle

Caliber: Available in 5.56 NATO, .300 Blackout, 7.62 X 39, .224 Valkyrie

Capacity: 30-Rounds Standard

Barrel Length: 16”

Weight: 6.8 lbs.

Finish: Black – Type III hard anodizing

MSRP: $2,085

F1 Firearms Patriot Skeletonized Rifle

F1 AR15

Although their skeletonized AR's get all the attention, F1 Firearms also offers pretty exciting AR-15's that follow a more traditional design. These top-shelf rifles are loaded with premium components that offer shooters a premium shooting experience well-worth the high price tag. While you'll surely notice the lightweight build, these AR's are remarkably durable, partially due to their Type III hard anodizing, Forged MIL-SPEC FDR-15 receiver set, and stainless steel barrels. Even if F1 and their AR-15's aren't household names, they have established a solid reputation with the right folks in the shooting industry that can back-up the company's high claims. I'm a huge fan of these guns right out of the box, but I can't help but appreciate the unimaginable variety and personalization F1 offers to its customers. In addition to a good selection of popular calibers, these AR's come in a variety of barrel lengths and configurations. Overall, you can rest assured that these rifles will last and continue providing impeccable accuracy and performance.

Model: FDR-15-c

Caliber: Available in 5.56 NATO, .300 Blackout, 7.62 X 39, .224 Valkyrie

Capacity: 30-Rounds Standard

Barrel Length: 16”

Weight: 6.9 lbs.

Finish: Black – Type III hard anodizing

MSRP: $1,610

F1 Firearms FDR-15 Rifle

F1 Other Products

Safety selectors, cases, handguards, barrels, bolt carrier groups, compensators, you name it – F1 Firearms has a catalog that is sure to amaze. There’s clearly so much to talk about but I want to emphasize the unprecedented number of finishes F1 has to offer. Between all kinds of anodized, cerakote, custom, solid, camo, there’s no end to decking out your F1 AR.

F1 Firearms Finishes

Conclusion

To put it simply: F1 Firearms has so much to offer the gun community, whether you’re looking for home defense, competition sports, or recreational shooting. These rifles should not be underestimated, especially in light of their spectacular endorsements. I'm excited to watch this company grow and see how far they can actually go.

Skeletonized AR15 Gets Dirty

We hope you enjoyed this Gunivore Review

You may also like our reviews of Volquartsen and Midwest Industries

TAGS: F1 FIREARMS COLORS, F1 FIREARMS DEMOLITIONRANCH, F1 FIREARMS FOR SALE,

Sam M

Sam is an avid firearms enthusiast who loves sharing his knowledge and experience with fellow gunivores.

Let us know what you think in the comments section!

For suggestions, collaborations, or requests, contact sam@gunivore.com.

← PREVIOUS ARTICLE

NEXT ARTICLE >

Recommended Articles

JUNE 12, 2018

Strike Industries Accessories Company Overview

FEBRUARY 19, 2019

Grey Ghost Precision Company Overview

FEBRUARY 21, 2018

Savage Arms Company Overview

Leave a Reply

Comment

Name*

Email*

Website

POST COMMENT